INTRODUCTION

At some Brazilian Computer Science event (I think it was at SbSeg '12) I saw that many computer science students at Brazil accustomed to present their slides with a graphic style provided by their program (Very cool IMHO).

However my program at UFSM (<http://w3.ufsm.br/ppgi/>) didn't have its own style. Hence, on an insomnia-night right after two Red Bulls and some pages of my dissertation thesis I wrote a modification of Benjamin Weiss's LaTeX template (<https://github.com/hsrmbeamertheme>.)

INTRODUCTION

At this time this template has two “main contributions”:

- Usage of UFSM visual identity (fonts and logo available at http://sucuri.cpd.ufsm.br/portalweb/conteudo/idvisual.php)
- Usage of Inf visual identity (logo available at http://www.inf.ufsm.br/index/servicos/identidade-visual, fonts and colors were “stolen” from site’s css . . .)

LICENSE

This template is distributed under the terms of GNU Public License in conformity with Benjamin's license ;). If you have some suggestions or you wanna implement a ppt/odp equivalent, go on and fork it on my github! <http://www.github.com/tuxtor>

RESTRICTIONS

To use this template you need to . . .

- Install UFSM's fonts at your system
- Ensure that you TeX distribution has fontspec installed
- Configure your TeX build system to use LuaTeX or XeLaTeX as engines
